Welcome to the Atherton Tablelands

A land of beauty and adventure, the Atherton Tablelands has long established its place as one of Australia’s most scenic drive destinations. Starting west of Cairns, the region sits on a plateau rising from 400 metres to 1200 metres above sea level on the Great Dividing Range. It is this elevation that gives rise to incredible activities worthy of a place on anyone’s bucket list.

Explore volcanic lakes, stunning national parks, abundant waterfalls, ancient rainforest, outback escarpments and the plentiful offerings from the region’s fertile agricultural land. Dairy farms, peanut, tropical fruits, coffee and tea plantations dot the landscape, and innovative small businesses offer unique and unforgettable experiences showcasing the very best of what the Atherton Tablelands has to offer.

Take in the charm and character of heritage listed towns such as Herberton and Yungaburra, or the art deco style of Atherton, the country charm of Mareeba’s busy town centre or quieter outback communities of Mount Garnet, Innot Hot Springs and Chillagoe. The Misty Mountains also offer a spectacular backdrop to the high altitude rainforest towns of Millaa Millaa and Malanda.

You can find walking and hiking trails all across this world-renowned Wet Tropics region of Australia. Choose a short walk, one or multi-day treks to discover mountain peaks such as Davies Creek National Park, Stewart Head Trail, or Mount Bellenden Ker, Queensland’s second highest mountain. For those on two wheels, historic rail trails and purpose-built mountain bike tracks, offer plenty of choice.

On your outdoors adventure, you might spot some of Australia’s more unique endemic wildlife, including hundreds of species of birds, the Lumholtz’s tree kangaroo, cassowaries and platypus. At night, marsupials wake with sightings of possums and gliders – plus the gigantic Hercules Moth or the Lesser Sooty Owl. Hold onto this Touring Map to get the most out of your stay on the Atherton Tablelands and prepare to fall in love with this rich, bountiful, and stunningly beautiful region.
